

McKMAC, Grand Jury want cityhood study

Jack Durham
MAD RIVER UNION

McKINLEYVILLE – The McKinleyville Municipal Advisory Committee agrees with almost every recommendation made by the Humboldt Grand Jury regarding the need for in-depth initial feasibility analysis on incorporating McKinleyville.

The McKMAC was invited, but not required, to respond to the Grand Jury's May 22 report titled "Incorporating the City of McKinleyville: To Be, or Not to Be?"

The Grand Jury did not take an opinion on whether incorporating McKinleyville is a good idea or not. Instead, it recommends that the County of Humboldt pay for a feasibility study.

The Grand Jury recommend that the Board of Supervisors solicit bids for the study no later than Jan. 1, 2024 and award a contract no later than March 1, 2024, with the study to be completed by Oct. 1, 2024.

The report does not include a cost estimate for the study, although some have said it would cost anywhere

ARCATA – Since 1985, Adult Day Health Care (ADHC) at Mad River has offered a daily program for medically at-risk adults who are dependent on others for some of their care. The non-profit ADHC gives these individuals, including dementia patients, a safe and stimulating place to spend their days that also allows family caregivers a much-needed break to take care of other household business.

Among the 40 or so current participants are nine U.S. military veterans, most of whom are losing access to the program. The reason, says ADHC Administrator April Joyce, is the Veterans Administration's refusal – or bureaucratic inability – to reimburse the facility for their care. (See page 5 for a letter from April Joyce.)

Last Friday, following efforts going back years to get their contractually-obligated payments for $47,000 owed by the VA, ADHC told the agency it would have to sus-

Cannabis measure mediation fails, sends initiative to ballot

MAD RIVER UNION

HUMBOLDT – Meetings between Humboldt County officials and the proponents of a controversial cannabis ballot measure haven't moved any markers and the measure remains on track for a March 2024 election vote.

Known as the Humboldt Cannabis Reform Initiative, the measure is strongly opposed by cannabis farmers and worries county planners and the Board of Supervisors.

Its stated purpose is to reduce the impacts of cannabis cultivation and support smaller-scale farming. But as with the rest of the measure, there's a lot of disagreement about whether it will do either.

A county analysis presented to the Board of Supervisors last March says the measure will have a variety of negative effects, including prohibiting new farms and hiking permitting costs.

The analysis also says the Planco closing in on Gateway decision

ARCATA – The Planning Commission last week tied up a lot of loose ends in its processing of the General Plan Update and Gateway Area Plan (GAP). The GAP is one of many General Plan elements, and commissioners are formulating a recommendation to the City Council, which will ultimately decide the General Plan and GAP's final form.

In preparation for the July 11 preliminary recommendation, the various commissioners were asked whether they wanted further review of the General Plan's elements. Commissioner Judith Mayer, who was absent, and Commissioner Peter Lehman wanted more review of almost all elements, but the rest, with exceptions, did not.

Lehman asked for an additional month to read "clean copies" of all the elements and consider them as a whole, a notion supported by Commissioner Dan Tangney. But Chair Scott Davies said the majority sentiment was to move on and focus on the GAP's form-based code.

Community Development Director David Loya said the commission has been making unprecedented strides in processing the elements, and has time to make a preliminary recommendation while still fine-tuning details.

How to celebrate Plastic-Free July

CITY OF ARCATA
ARCATA – The City of Arcata encourages community members to participate in the worldwide initiative known as Plastic Free July.

Plastic Free July is designed to help people refuse single-use plastic and improve recycling practices.

Each year, millions of people around the globe take the challenge in the month of July and choose to refuse single-use plastics to reduce plastic pollution in our cities, waterways and oceans. Small, daily actions can lead to long-term environmentally friendly habits that help make the world a cleaner place.

Remember just a few small changes can make a big difference and inspire others to do the same!

The City of Arcata Environmental Services Department has some tips for community members on how to reduce the use of disposable plastics:

- Use a reusable water bottle instead of buying single-use plastic water bottles.
- Buy in bulk to avoid single-use plastic packaging. Most grocery stores with a bulk section allow containers brought from home. Ask a store clerk for assistance before you fill the container.
- Always have a set of reusable utensils on hand in a bag, backpack or car. Bamboo utensils are great but silverware already at home or bought from a local thrift store (just make sure to wash and sanitize first) work great too!
- Take reusable bags to grocery stores instead of using plastic bags. One tip is to have a small reusable bag in a bag or backpack that can stuff into itself so there is always one on hand!
- The city's Single Use Disposables Ordinance is now in place, so it's easy to bring clean, durable containers to use for to-go orders! To learn more visit tinyurl.com/SingleUse-Disposables.

- When placing orders to-go, opt-out of accessory foodware that you may not need such as straws, utensils and napkins.
- Say no to plastic wrap. There are many excellent substitutes such as cloth or beeswax wrap.
- Encourage family and friends to take part in the Plastic Free July challenge!

For more information about Plastic Free July, visit plasticfreejuly.org. To learn about the City of Arcata's zero waste initiatives visit, tinyurl.com/WastePreventionResources or contact the Environmental Services Department at (707) 822-8184.

Plastic Free July is a key initiative of the Plastic Free Foundation that allows us to work towards our vision of seeing a world free of plastic waste. From humble beginnings in 2011, the award-winning Plastic Free July campaign is the result of years of hard work. For more information, visit plasticfreejuly.org.

South I Street, marsh trails closing for Wastewater Plant overhaul

CITY OF ARCATA
ARCATA – South I Street will be closed in the evening of Tuesday, July 4 through Wednesday, July 26, for Phase One of the Arcata Wastewater Treatment Facility Improvement Project.

The City of Arcata Wastewater Treatment Facility (AWTF) is continuing its Facility Improvement Project with rehabilitation of the wastewater treatment enhancement marshes and construction of new infrastructure in the Arcata Marsh. Construction will continue on the Hauser Marsh outlet structures, and will begin on a new treated effluent outfall in the Brackish Marsh. Concurrently, the city's Boat Launch Facilities Improvement Project will begin construction at the southern end of the South I Street parking lot.

For public safety reasons, South I Street will be temporarily closed to vehicles from the evening of July 4 to July 26. There will also be an intermittent detour of the Humboldt Bay Trail around the construction area. Please follow all trail detour signage. Additionally, other public trails around the Brackish Marsh, Klopp Lake and Hauser Marsh may be temporarily closed during construction activities.

Construction will generally take place Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. On some days the contractor may extend work hours from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. The road closure will stay in effect over the weekends.

Construction activities in the treatment enhancement marshes include, but are not limited to, upgrades and retrofits to existing outlet structures in Hauser Marsh and inlet structures in Allen Marsh, new sewer piping and electrical duct work, a new pump station, submersed baffle walls to enhance treatment and water flow in Gearhart and Allen marshes and a new treated effluent outfall at the Brackish Marsh.

The City of Arcata has contracted with Wahlund Construction, Inc. for Phase One of the project. Funding for this project, a project funded by President Biden's Bipartisan Infrastructure Law, has been provided in full or in part under the California's Clean Water State Revolving Fund, which is capitalized through a variety of funding sources, including grants from the United States Environmental Protection Agency and state bond proceeds through an agreement with the State Water Resources Control Board. Additional funding for UV equipment has been provided in part by a HUD Community Development Block Grant (CDBG).

The city has received all environmental permits and approvals for the project and has completed all pre-construction bird, amphibian and botanical surveys. The city is working with a multidisciplinary team of consultants and city staff to monitor construction activities and minimize environmental impacts in and around the city's core wastewater treatment facilities and the publicly accessible enhancement marshes.

Please do not remove any staking or flagging found in the project area. Flagging and staking is used to mark new structures to construct, utilities, areas cleared by biologist and areas of concern to avoid during construction.

Mitigation measures, including vegetation restoration, will commence after construction activities are completed. Construction activities will be ongoing for a duration of three years, with an anticipated end date in December 2025. We thank you for your ongoing support and understanding during the construction period.

For further information about the Arcata Wastewater Treatment Improvement Project, please contact the Environmental Services Department at (707) 822-8184.

from $150,000 to $300,000. The McKMAC discussed its responses to the Grand Jury report at its June 28 meeting, held the day after the Board of Supervisors approved its budget for the coming fiscal year, which does not include money for a study.
McKMAC members acknowledged that the timeline for completing the study was aggressive, but said they wanted the study to get done.
“I think the community deserves to put this controversy to bed, at least for now,” said committee member Kevin Jenkins, who heads up the McKMAC’s McKinleyville Incorporation Exploration Subcommittee (MIESC).
McKMAC members said that they would actually be responding not directly to the Grand Jury, but to the Board of Supervisors.
McKMAC member Greg Orsini noted that it is not the committee’s job to decide what gets funded and when.

Grand Jury ‘Hey, this isn’t going to work.’” Orsini said.
The McKMAC only had one disagreement with the Grand Jury’s six recommendations. In its first recommendation, the Grand Jury wrote “By no later than November 1, 2023, the Humboldt County Board of Supervisors provide the McKinleyville Municipal Advisory Committee, and any of its subcommittees, with the authority to seek other sources of funding to assist in the creation of the in-depth Initial Feasibility Analysis.”
Orsini said his main problem with the recommendation was the use of the word “authority.” Orsini said that being given “authority” would be in violation of the McKMAC’s own rules. McKMAC Chair Lisa Dugan said her concern was that it would make it appear as if it was the McKMAC’s duty to find funding for the study.
Instead, the McKMAC recommended that the word “authority” be changed to “support,” along with a few other wording tweaks.

They dashed, they splashed and Radar loved it

Here’s hoping you and your pets survived the Forth of July with minimal disruption. I was so excited about the arrival of Humboldt Dash and Splash at the shelter that I neglected my usual Forth of July reminders. Some apply every day.
Keep some sort of ID on your dogs at all times if possible. More dogs than you might think show up at the shelter after getting out after their owners had taken their collars off. If the jingling of your dog’s tags bothers you there are several solutions. There are “no jingle” tags available as well as IDs that slip over the strap of the collar. You can also write a phone number right on the collar in sharpie for the low-cost alternative. When there is contact info, animals get returned to owners much more quickly.
Splash Dogs was a huge success this past week! Maybe some of you had the chance to come out and participate. We were able to bring over thirty of our shelter dogs out to the pool in the mornings before the paying customers arrived. The dogs were full of surprises! Some that love the wading pool in our play yard were not so sure about getting in that big pool of water. Others took to the activity with great enthusiasm.

❖ DOGTOWN
Mara Segal

Peaches was our top swimmer and had a blast. She considered the dock diving but preferred just swimming after toys during her turns this week.
With a little more time she’d probably be ready to launch herself off the dock into the pool!
There were other swimmers, lots of dogs who braved the steep exit ramp and got their feet wet and some who thought just running around the pool enclosure and sniffing where all the other dogs had been was plenty of entertainment.
One of our pups that surprised us with his confidence in the pool was Radar. This beautiful blond boy is about two years old. He has always been great with other dogs and is one of our go-tos when we’re looking for a new playmate for another dog. He will make himself small if the other dog is unsure or will play all out if that is welcomed. He is also one that really enjoyed the times that a volunteer was reading to the dogs. He was not sure at first what that was about but then relaxed and enjoyed listening to her.
In our break room, Radar has demonstrated that he knows Sit and Down and can give his person his full attention. At the big pool, Radar was up the exit ramp right away and checking out the water. We brought him back down to put on a floaty vest (something we did for most of the dogs just to give them some extra lift) and he quickly trotted right back up.

Radar didn’t need much encouragement to wade right in and go for a swim! This boy will love a chance to go swimming at the beach or the river.
Radar’s perfect home would probably include a canine sibling. He’s done equally well with male and female dogs. He loves to play! If you have a dog in need of a playmate, please consider bringing them to the shelter to meet Radar. He is neutered, microchipped, heartworm tested and current on his vaccinations. Call the Humboldt County Animal Shelter at (707) 840-9132 to make an appointment with Radar or any of our other dogs or cats.
And if you missed the fun of Humboldt Dash and Splash, there will be another chance in August. They will be set up in Fortuna from Aug. 12 through 19. I’ll be mentioning them here again as it gets closer.
These kind and generous folks donated half of their proceeds to the shelter’s Emergency Medical Fund this week and will donate to Redwood Pals Rescue in August. Check out their Facebook page for some amazing photos by Redwood Pals Rescue’s own Jim Marlatt!

Planco | Recommendation

Ultimately, the Planco’s recommendation will be followed next spring by a formal resolution to the council. “For all intents and purposes, you’ve got the rest of the year to consider this and decide if there are modifications that you want to make,” Loya said.
Davies agreed, saying that approach allows the commission to move ahead with a preliminary recommendation, focus on the GAP and later revisit other elements. This would be done using the regular meeting format rather than the special meetings recently used to jumpstart the process, thus allowing public comment on each item.
Following detailed discussion, the Planco chose to raise inclusionary zoning requirements to 4 percent for very low-income housing and 9 percent for low- to moderate-income housing. It chose not to allow in-lieu fees to be charged, as that could eliminate affordable housing and encourage gentrification.
In addressing building design standards, commissioners eliminated minimum parking requirements for new developments. The commission also added a provision requiring review of the GAP every two years once it is implemented. It also chose to limit ministerial permit hearings to be continued once rather than three times, since the form-based code reviews may only ascertain whether conformance with objective standards.
Ten-foot, street-facing setbacks were deemed unnecessary and discouraging development and stripped from the code, though upper-story setbacks, first pioneered in New York City to allow sunlight to reach the ground amid skyscrapers, were retained.

Veterans | Losing services

pend services to the vets in its care. In response, Joyce said, the agency abruptly terminated its contract with the facility.
Joyce explains in arduous detail the facility’s increasing difficulty in gaining its owed reimbursements from the VA over the last five years. It’s a trying tale steeped in shifting regulations and requirements, governmental inefficiency, miscommunications and never being able to track down the source of the problems, or anyone with the power to rectify them.
“There have been several different issues,” Joyce said. Previous imbroglios have seen the agency failing to process paperwork and then saying it was never submitted. Usually, back payments eventually come though with a chunk of money for the center, but this time, the janky process appears to have fully broken down.
The latest imbroglia has seen veteran participants receiving rejection letters over claims that the VA says have no authorization number attached. Joyce says the claims are submitted with the authorization number, but by looking in on the VA billing system, her staff can see the required numbers there one day and suddenly, inexplicably missing the next.
The glitch has defied resolution, with even those at the VA attempting to help throwing up their hands in defeat. “We’ve got this whole group of different departments on the email,” Joyce said. “The only ones speaking up are the ones who are saying, ‘That’s not my lane,’ and the ones who it might be their lane, they’re not speaking up. Nobody has acknowledged that this is a problem within their system; that the system is deleting the numbers.”

“We don’t feel that we’re asking too much,” Joyce said. “Just to be paid for the services that we do.”
The problem is responsible for some $36,000 of the owed reimbursements, but another unpaid $10,000 dates back years. As a result, the center is going payroll to payroll with its 15-member staff. “We’ve got just enough coming in [from other sources] to make payroll and make our other bills,” Joyce said. ADHC is a tenant of Mad River Community Hospital, but not administered by it.
Joyce said she is working with the affected families, and has found alternative funding for three of the nine veterans, who have served in conflicts ranging from the Koren War to Desert Storm.
Sen. Jared Huffman’s office has been involved in seeking resolutions and is reportedly generating a fresh response, but couldn’t be contacted before Monday’s press time.

Cannabis | Opponents say measure would drown industry in regulation and litigation

measure’s imprecise language could lead to prohibitions on adding things to farms like energy and water conservation equipment.
But during an update hearing at the June 27 supervisors meeting, Mark Thurmond, one of the measure’s lead organizers, said the county’s analysis is wrong and has misled people.
It’s part of a “fear-mongering approach” to turn people against the measure, he continued.
“I see the reasons why they’re upset and I don’t see those reasons in any of the language in the initiative,” Thurmond said. “I do see it in the language of the analysis.”
Citing the expansion issue as an example, Thurmond said rhetoric on the measure “has just gotten overblown” and “the analysis from the county is responsible for most of this problem.”
Some incredulous laughter from the audience prompted Board Chair Steve Madrone to say, “Folks, come on, please stay respectful.”
The lengthy public comment period included some supporters of the measure and many cannabis farmers, including those who described themselves as small-scale.
They said the measure unnecessarily – and harmfully – adds restrictions to an agricultural industry that is already highly regulated by the county, the state and a variety of environmental agencies.
Natalynne DeLapp of the Humboldt County Growers Alliance said if the measure’s focus was on limiting new cultivation and expansion, there would be no controversy.
Her read of the measure is similar to the county’s.

She said the measure’s policies would define half of the county’s cannabis farms as non-conforming uses, blocking ability to “make any changes on their farms to support their craft cannabis businesses.”
She added, “If passed, (the measure) would send Humboldt’s cannabis program into an existential tailspin marked by extensive litigation that reflects the adversarial posture already demonstrated by the initiative’s proponents.”
Attorneys for the county and the measure’s sponsors are at odds over the accuracy of the analysis and whether it represents a violation of state law that forbids using public resources to take stances on ballot measures.
That issue and an amended version of the analysis was before supervisors, who took no action other than to listen to public comment and receive the updated document.

Its amendments mostly consist of notes that explain how a “difference of perspective” on cannabis permitting can “result in very different conclusions” about the measure’s consequences.
Supervisor Rex Bohn asked Planning Director John Ford about the effectiveness of the county’s ability to control cannabis farming impacts.
“I think we’re being very diligent about looking to make sure that the environment is being protected,” Ford said.
He added that regulations have tilted toward more environmental protection over the last two or three years and “as we’ve come to understand things better, we have improved.”

If the measure’s approved by voters, it will become law that can only be changed through another election. It easily made the ballot, gaining more than 7,000 signatures.
Against warnings from attorneys for the measure, the county will continue to carry out what it views as public education on the measure’s effects.
County attorneys have advised that there’s nothing in state law stopping supervisors and other officials from exercising First Amendment rights of expression.
In that spirit, Supervisor Michelle Bushnell, whose Southern Humboldt district includes many of the county’s cannabis farmers said she’s “in opposition and do not agree with the initiative” prior to a unanimous vote accepting the amended analysis.

Crabs relish another weekend of winning

Richard LaPreziosa
MAD RIVER UNION
ARCATA – “That ball was poked, pretty good,” Robin Guiver explained about Sunday afternoon’s home run in the Crabs’ 11-0 win. And he speaks facts, as the ball was indeed “poked.”

It was in the fourth inning when the announcer introduced the hitter of said home run.

“Billy....,” and with that a significant number of Crabs fans burst out in cheers, from just the first name. And when his last name was announced, “Ham!” they started the chant “Ham! Ham! Ham! Ham!”

And so Billy Ham, Crabs first baseman, walked into the batter’s box with the fans chanting his name.

“I honestly (didn’t notice.) I was kinda locked in, not worried about what the crowd was saying too much.”

He was so locked in that he crushed the ball over the right field fence, later adding, “I had a lot of fun today. The highlight gotta be the home run. It went over the net and hit the building.”

The win against the Bay Area Force, as was Saturday’s 13-3 win, was called early. I’m not sure of the exact name of the rule which ends a lopsided game early, so let’s just call it the “OK, enough is enough rule.”

The weekend wins, along with three week-night victories, brings the season record to 17-5.

Wine Wednesdays: Pat Knittel of North Story Wines

What could be more local than wine made in the heart of Arcata in the old Machine Works building on I Street? Pat Knittel was pouring her natural wines at a recent Wine Wednesday by the third base bleachers.

Janine Volkmar

She’s not only the owner and wine-maker of North Story Wines but also the owner and cider maker at Wrangletown Cider in Arcata. They are both in the same facility. “Natural wine and cider are two peas in a pod,” she said.

Knittel grew up in Freshwater and worked in some of the big wineries in the Napa and Sonoma area, as well as in New Zealand. And, what’s more, she was an administrative assistant for the San Francisco Giants in 1998.

“My mom would be paying for groceries and she would just ‘happen’ to let my business card with the Giants logo fall out of her wallet,” said Knittel with a smile.

North Story wines are the epitome of the word natural. Knittel was pouring a Carignane at the ballpark, a 2021 vintage from grapes from Mendocino County. “They come from a vineyard that’s over 80 years old,” she said. “It’s been certified organic since 2014. It’s a natural wine style with the stem flavor in, lots of tannin and spice. I did not inoculate it with yeast, it’s just the grapes themselves.”

Knittel has a background in Pinot Noir, learned in her eight years working in Anderson Valley.

France and held her breath as it was unpacked.

The shape is key. “The yeast cells keep getting reintroduced to the liquid,” she explained.

North Story Wines can be found at the Co-op, at Wildberries, at Eureka Natural Foods and at Libation Wine Bar and Shop on the Plaza, as well at natural wine shops in the Bay Area and Southern California. Knittel said that NaRayan at Libation was a great source of information about natural wines.

Wrangletown Cider has become a hopping music scene on Friday and Saturday nights. “The acoustics are great,” Knittel said. Cider and wine can be purchased and she welcomes folks who bring in outside food to make a night of it. It’s located at 955 I St..

A different local winemaker is featured every Wednesday.

JACOB AND JODESSY'S
SUPERB CITIZENSHIP

GOOD CITIZENS Ellen Brown, daughter of George Herd, presented the George Herd Memorial Citizenship award to Jacob Baker and Jodessey Heldebrandt at the Orick 8th Grade Graduation June 22. Jacob worked with the younger children with their puppet show, helped teachers with field trips and helped keep areas around school clean. Jacob helps with all community events such as corned beef and cabbage dinner, Dell'Arte, Quarter Craze and Toys for Tots. Congratulations, Jacob. Jodessey Heldebrandt is a newcomer to Orick and has not been able to attend as many events as lifelong residents. Jodessey helped with younger children's puppet show, helped with community events and helped the school start a community garden. He also tries to set a good example for others. Congratulations, Jodessey.

SF Veterans Admin disrespects local vets

I am the administrator of Adult Day Health Care of Mad River. Our center provides a medically based day program for adults who are dependent on others for some of their care. We aim to maintain our program participants in the lowest level of care needed for as long as possible, while providing necessary respite for their caregivers. We have been in operation in Arcata since 1985 and since 2003 we have had a contract with the Veteran's Administration to provide our services to local veterans.

In recent years our center, along with many other local healthcare providers, have had difficulty in receiving timely payments for our services from the VA. For our center, this has escalated in the past few months to the point where we are currently owed over $47,000 for services we have provided.

As a small non-profit center, this amount of debt burden has become unsustainable and our efforts to resolve these payments issues with the VA have not yielded long term results.

For all of these reasons we made the difficult decision this week to suspend services for our veterans whose attendance is paid by the VA, until full payment was received. The response from the San Francisco VA this morning was to cancel our contract with them effective immediately.

This unfortunate decision from the VA puts the health and well-being of nearly one dozen veterans, who have served our country in all branches of the service during conflicts in Korea, Vietnam and Desert Storm, at significant risk.

The services we provide include medical monitoring for conditions such as Congestive Heart Failure, Multiple Sclerosis, Hypertension, Coronary Artery Disease and Alzheimer's Disease. We also have an exercise program overseen by physical and occupational therapists, support for families provided by our social worker, a lively activities program and personal care provided by our care partners.

In addition to the direct services provided to our veterans, another important service is the respite provided for the family caregivers. This essential break from the stresses associated with 24/7 caregiving is a huge factor in helping our program participants to remain in their own homes for as long as possible.

Many of the veterans who attend our program have been enrolled here for many years. During that time, they have developed close friendships with our staff and other participants to the point that we have become like a second family for them.

With this decision from the VA to cancel their services with us, all of that has been wiped away in an instant. The fact that all of this comes on the eve of our country's anniversary, from a battle that was fought by our veterans almost 250 years ago, makes it all the more painful.

At this time, we are diligently working on plans to help our veterans continue to receive these important services in any way possible. We are working closely with their primary care providers at the local Eureka VA clinic, who have been very supportive of our efforts.

We have also been working closely with Congressman Jared Huffman's office to try to find some resolution to these issues. All of the staff at Adult Day Health Care of Mad River are all heartbroken by the callous response and disregard for the well-being of our elderly veterans from the San Francisco VA.

We urge our community to let the San Francisco Veteran's Administration know if you share our concerns for the sake of our local veterans. These local citizens served our country to maintain the freedoms that we frequently take for granted. Please don't let them be disrespected in this way by the very organization that is supposed to support them.

Sincerely,
April Joyce, Administrator
Adult Day Health Care of Mad River
Arcata

Congratulations athletes

Recently, I had the privilege of assisting in coaching Humboldt County's Special Olympics Track and Field Team.

In May, the athletes traveled to Pleasanton, Calif. to to complete in the 2023 track and field regional meet. Though small in number, they were successful in receiving numerous medals and ribbons. These awards did not diminish their enjoyment of the competition.

They are true athletes. Congratulations to them all.

Second Trinidad Civic Club Scholarship: Giovanni "Gino" Gonzalez

The generosity of an anonymous donor has allowed the Trinidad Civic Club Scholarship Committee to award a second $2,000 academic scholarship. The first one was presented to McKinleyville High School senior Rebecca Barnett in May.

McKinleyville High School senior Giovanni "Gino" Dolson Gonzalez is the recipient of the second one. He and Rebecca were co-presidents of their classes for four years.

Gino has been an active member of his high school community since his freshman year. He was communications director of Region 1, the largest region in California, for the California Association of Student Councils.

This non-profit organization works to develop skilled leaders from diverse backgrounds to improve the quality of life for others in the world. He also was a member of his school's Link leadership program to welcome and orient new students. Humboldt Counterculture History: It's More Than Homesteads and Tie-dye

HUMBOLDT AREA PEOPLES ARCHIVE
ARCATA – Humboldt Area Peoples Archive (HAPA) is hosting an evening of discussion and entertainment focusing on the innovative people risking it all to make change – with local and national impacts, Wednesday, July 12 from 6:30 to 11 p.m. at Location: Wrangletown Cider, 955 I St. Free to the public; food and drinks available.

What happened here was bold. Here in Humboldt County, groundbreaking actions seeded economic development, environmental protection and cultural inclusiveness.

Guest academics include Greg Castillo, a leading UC Berkeley scholar of design history and co-curator of the "Hippie Modernism" exhibition at BAMPFA (Berkeley Art Museum and Film Archive) and Ruth Dusseault, artist and journalist who has done pioneering work on today's Off-the-Grid movement. "Few historical phenomena that have had as great an impact on all aspects of our life, have also gone without acknowledgment or serious consideration," said Professor Castillo. "In my field, only recently have scholars begun to take seriously counterculture's innovations in architecture, design and ecology."

Our guest speakers will join a panel of Humboldt artists and activists, including:

- Leslie Castellano, Eureka City Council member and executive director of the Ink People.

- Robie Tenorio, Southern Humboldt community organizer
- Sunshine Cereceda, daughter of forest defender, KMUD host and second generation cannabis farmer
- Original performances by Jane Lapiner, Anna Hamilton, Eli Fowler and Brian Swizlo

"I'm excited to be able to talk about how my work as an artist and activist is part of our community traditions," says Castellano.

The event is organized by HAPA Executive Director Nicole Riggs, who describes HAPA's mission: "We collect, preserve and offer access to rare stories of change in Humboldt from the '60s to the present. What makes our collections truly meaningful is not just the quantity, but the stories they hold."

This year HAPA is collaborating with the Solstice Collective, Humboldt Honey, Eureka Natural Foods and the Northcoast Environmental Center to raise awareness of Humboldt's recent history. From July 8 to July 12, HAPA will be the recipient of the "Change 4 Change" campaign from Eureka Natural Foods.

Parade, crafts, music, food at 54th annual Annie & Mary Day

Janine Volkmar

MAD RIVER UNION

BLUE LAKE – Marvin Samuels nailed the description of the Annie & Mary parade in Blue Lake. "Our parade is a mixture of Norman Rockwell meets the zany '60s," he said.

Kids on bikes in dinosaur costumes, the Shriners in their clown car, Dell 'Arte students in full color, fire trucks, the Old Crows, stiltwalkers, horses and ponies, and, of course, the spirits of Annie and Mary, two women who worked for the railroad, will all parade through Blue Lake on Sunday, July 9.

"It will be our 54th annual Annie & Mary Day," he said. Samuels is the president of the Blue Lake Chamber of Commerce, which sponsors the event.

Annie Carroll and Mary Buckley worked as bookkeepers for the Arcata Mad River Railroad (the A&M Railroad) so local folks called it the Annie & Mary.

The railroad was in operation from 1855 to 1983 and is designated California Historical Landmark Number 842. The A&M was the first railroad on the North Coast.

The celebration kicks off with the parade at 11 a.m. with the parade route winding through the streets of Blue Lake, where vintage cars will be on display.

Grand marshals for the parade this year are Jennifer and Terry Kramer. Jennifer is the hardworking president of the Mad River Grange.

The Blue Lake Museum will have a bake sale in front of the museum starting at 10 a. m. for hungry paradegoers.

Then the party moves to Perigot Park for free live music, a huge field of craft vendors, activities for kids plus food and libations for sale.

The Blue Lake Fire Department will be selling barbecue, The Dog House with Darcy's fabulous dogs will be open, and three food trucks, Cap's Food Shack, La Barca and Manzanilla will be there, and for the sweet tooth, Cheerful Shaved Ice and Hooked Kettle Corn.

The Friends of Annie & Mary Rail Trail will be running the bar with beer from Mad River Brewery. Blue Lake's Jewell Distillery will offer a special drink made with their American dry gin, The Trailblazer, in honor of the work the Friends do.

Perigot Park has the softest grass for dancing and the bands in this year's lineup will get the most reluctant dancers up and moving. They are (in order) Fickle Hill, Dead On, Cadillac Ranch and Checkered Past.

Blue Lake Mayor Adeline Jones said that the craft vendors signed up are "very eclectic." More than 35 have signed up with room for 50 vendors. Applications can be downloaded at sunnybluelake.com or picked up at City Hall.

Kids' activities will be happening on the playground, in the vendor area, and at the horse arena with pony rides for the littles. Take a walk back to the Blue Lake Museum which is open from 1 to 4 p.m. to see all the exhibits and, especially, the new show on French Entrepreneurs. Those families were the Chartins, the Perrons, the Perigots, the French citizens who came by ship to make Blue Lake the ville charmante it is today.

Samuels invited everyone to "come to Blue Lake, the center of the universe!"

BOX 6875 SANTA ROSA, CA 95406-0875 By: ROBERT CULLEN, President NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924(g) of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (800) 683-2468 or visit this Internet Web site: www.servicelinkASAP.com, using the Trustee Sale number assigned to this file, T.S. #23055-PR. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. A-4789091 07/05/2023, 07/12/2023, 07/19/2023

Eder Galindo Ramirez Scholarship

Beca Eder Galindo Ramirez

Lucy Salazar
PRESIDENT, CUMBRE HUMBOLDT
ARCATA – The first Eder Galindo Ramirez Scholarship was awarded to Carlos Olivares, a 2023 graduate of Arcata High School who will be attending College of the Redwoods in the fall.

Pacific Union’s District English Learner Advisory Committee (DELAC), in cooperation with CUMBRE Humboldt, created this Scholarship in memory of Eder Samir Galindo Ramirez. This young man was the son of Alvaro Galindo and Blanca Ramirez.

After a year and a half struggle with cancer, he passed away in May of 2022 at the young age of 15. Eder was very proud to be able to graduate from Pacific Union and continue at Arcata High School, while dealing with the many therapy sessions in San Francisco.

The Eder Galindo Ramirez Scholarship honors this very loving, strong, and dedicated young man and strives to pass on his dedication during adversity to other students as they continue their schooling beyond high school.

When asked why furthering his education was important to him, Carlos responded: “I want to invest in my future not only for myself but for the people around me as well. I feel I have a sense of direction when I’m in school so going further and eventually completing school is my main focus.”

In his application, Mr. Olivares’ chosen role model is his Mom, “She has been through a lot and through adversity has thrived and achieved her goals. I look up to her in that aspect, she never had it as easy as she’s made it for us and even then she put herself in a position to support herself and us. She gives me motivation and confidence that I can be like her and achieve and persevere in anything I do.”

Mr. and Mrs. Galindo are especially proud to honor their son in this way. They hope that his resilience will be an inspiration for all students to keep working hard and to never give up on education.

They would also like to thank all those families and individuals who bought tickets for the “Cena Para Llevar” Enchilada Dinner to Go at Pacific Union School back in December, which paid for this scholarship. Future fundraisers are being discussed which will continue this scholarship as an ongoing annual opportunity for graduating Latinx seniors who graduated from Pacific Union School and plan to continue their education beyond high school.

Lucy Salazar
PRESIDENTA DE CUMBRE HUMBOLDT
ARCATA – La primera Beca Eder Galindo Ramirez se otorgó a Carlos Olivares, un graduado de Arcata High School en 2023 que asistirá a College of the Redwoods en el otoño.

El Comité Asesor de Es-tudiantes de Inglés del Distrito de Pacific Union (DELAC), en cooperación con CUMBRE Humboldt, creó esta Beca en memoria de Eder Samir Galindo Ramirez. Este joven era hijo de Alvaro Galindo y Blanca Ramirez. Después de un año y medio de lucha contra el cáncer, falleció en mayo de 2022 a la temprana edad de 15 años. Eder estaba muy orgulloso de poder graduarse de Pacific Union y continuar en Arcata High School, mientras lidiaba con las numerosas sesiones de terapia en San Francisco.

La Beca Eder Galindo Ramirez honra a este joven muy amoroso, fuerte y dedicado y se esfuerza por transmitir su dedicación durante la adversidad a otros estudiantes a medida que continúan sus estudios más allá de la escuela secundaria.

Cuando se le preguntó por qué era importante para él continuar con su educación, Carlos respondió: “Quiero invertir en mi futuro no solo para mí sino también para las personas que me rodean. Siento que tengo un sentido de dirección cuando estoy en la escuela, así que ir más allá y eventualmente completar la escuela es mi enfoque principal.”

En su solicitud, el modelo a seguir elegido por el Sr. Olivares es su mamá: “Ella ha pasado por muchas cosas y ha superado la adversidad y ha logrado sus objetivos. La admiro en ese aspecto, nunca lo tuvo tan fácil como lo hizo para nosotros e incluso entonces se puso en una posición para mantenerse a sí misma y a nosotros. Ella me da motivación y confianza de que puedo ser como ella y lograr y perseverar en todo lo que hago.”

El Sr. y la Sra. Galindo están especialmente orgullosos de honrar a su hijo de esta manera. Esperan que su resiliencia sea una inspiración para que todos los estudiantes sigan trabajando duro y nunca abandonen la educación. También les gustaría agradecer a todas aquellas familias e individuos que compraron boletos para la cena de enchiladas “Cena Para Llevar” en Pacific Union School en diciembre, que pagaron esta beca.

Se están discutiendo futuras recaudaciones de fondos que continuarán con esta beca como una oportunidad anual continua para los estudiantes latinos del último año que se graduaron de Pacific Union School y planean continuar su educación más allá de la escuela secundaria.

Artist Statement: Born and raised in Southern California, I moved to Humboldt in the early '70s. My childhood interest in art was encouraged. One of my tempera paintings from first grade traveled with a youth exhibition in Sacramento. My exposure to museums in Los Angeles sparked a desire to create.

Before retiring from a busy hairdressing career, I began instruction in oil painting from Master Artist Michael Hayes. I continued my education through Redwood Art Association workshops and classes offered by the Morris Graves Foundation. I've attended workshops by Jim McVicker, Stock Schleuter, Randall Sexton, John Hewitt and Ryan Jensen. My work can be viewed on my Instagram, @LynnNiekrasz-Paints, or on my Facebook page.

MARSH TOUR Friends of the Arcata Marsh (FOAM) is sponsoring a free tour of the Arcata Marsh & Wildlife Sanctuary on Saturday, July 8. Meet leader Sharon Levy at 2 p.m. in the lobby of the Interpretive Center on South G Street for a 90-minute, rain-or-shine walk focusing on wastewater treatment, marsh history, and/or birds. For more information, call (707) 826-2359.

BIRDING AT THE MARSH Join Redwood Region Audubon Society for a free guided field trip at the Arcata Marsh and Wildlife Sanctuary on Saturday, July 8 from 8:30 to 11 a.m. Bring your binoculars and meet trip leader Bill Rodstrom at the end of South I Street (Klopp Lake) in Arcata for easy-to-walk trails and an opportunity to view a diverse range of species. July is a great time to hear odd-sounding vocalizations from newly hatched songbirds learning to sing and to observe subtle differences in juvenile bird plumage in white-tailed kites, black phoebes, white-crowned sparrows, gulls, and pelicans.

BIRDING TOUR AT HUMBOLDT BAY NATIONAL WILDLIFE REFUGE Redwood Region Audubon Society will offer a free guided birding tour at Humboldt Bay National Wildlife Refuge on Sunday, July 9 from 9 to 11 a.m. Meet leader Ralph Bucher at the Visitor Center for this two-mile walk along a wide, flat trail that is packed gravel and easily accessible. Just outside of town, this refuge offers astounding and easy access to tidally-influenced habitats including mudflats, riparian vegetation, conifers, and a bay that hosts a variety of geese, raptors, shorebirds, and waders. Email Ralph to sign up at thebook@reninet.com.

WOMEN AND GIRLS' BIRD WALK Join Redwood Region Audubon Society's Women and Girls' bird walk on Saturday, July 15 from 9 to 11 a.m. at Dry Lagoon. Trip leader Kate Rowe will lead a walk along a gorgeous stretch of beach where brown pelicans, double-crested cormorants, and oystercatchers are frequently seen. Along the lagoon is a marshy area where we may see sparrows, blackbirds, and many songbird species. Elk, harriers, and peregrine falcons may also be present. Meet in the Dry Lagoon parking lot (41.222585, -124.108113), just like any Humboldt day, dress for windy or warm, foggy or sunny conditions!
